

The City of Chanhassen is hosting a Public Safety Seminar – April 20, 2010

An Inside View of Local Narcotics Enforcement

The City of Chanhassen would like to invite you to the Third Annual Public Safety Seminar. This year's event will give citizens an opportunity to learn about the inside operations of local narcotics enforcement operations. Representatives from the Southwest Metro Drug Task Force and Carver County Sheriff's Office will talk about the specialized field of narcotics enforcement and local drug-related crime trends. A demonstration will be provided by Deputy Neil Kuhnau and his drug-detecting K-9 partner Jake. There will be a brief overview given on crimes affecting Chanhassen and prevention reminders.

Representatives from the City of Chanhassen and Carver County Sheriff's Office will be available to address your questions and concerns.

This event is FREE, and the topic is best suited for persons 18 years and older. Space is limited, so please contact Beth Hoiseth at 952-227-1610 or bhosieth@ci.chanhassen.mn.us and provide a name, phone number, and number of persons attending.
